DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1, 2, 4, 17, and 18, drawn to a method for delivering a pharmaceutical polypeptide agent through a body surface, classified in class 514, subclass 2.
- II. Claim 5, drawn to a method of modifying a pharmaceutical polypeptide agent to enhance electrotransport through a body surface, classification depends upon the method used to produce the agent.
- III. Claims 6-15, drawn to a synthetic analog of a parent polypeptide and a composition comprising such a synthetic analog, classified in class 514, subclass 2.

2. The inventions are distinct, each from the other for the following reasons. Inventions I and II are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP §806.04, MPEP §808.01). In the instant case, the different inventions are drawn to completely different methods each having completely different method steps, using different agents, and having completely different outcomes. Invention I is drawn to a method for delivering a pharmaceutical polypeptide agent through a body surface whereas Invention II is drawn to a method of modifying a pharmaceutical polypeptide agent to enhance electrotransport through a body surface. Each method is unique and not required one for another. Thus, the methods are exclusive and require non-cohesive searches and considerations.

3. Inventions I and III are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP §806.05 (h)). In the instant case, the synthetic protein analog may be used in a materially different process such as production of an antibody.
4. Inventions II and III are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case, a protein synthetic analog may be made by a variety of methods, such as chemical synthesis and DNA recombination technology.
5. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.
6. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and the search required for a single group is not required for any other group, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48 (b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a petition under 37 CFR 1.48 (b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17 (I).
